Regional Planning Commission Meeting December 7, 2022

Grand Island, Nebraska—Discussion of the community engagement process will be featured at the Hall County Regional Planning Commission meeting on December 7, 2022 at 6:00 p.m., in the City Council Chamber in Grand Island City Hall. The local news media is encouraged to attend.

The Regional Planning Commission and Planning Director will discuss ideas and issues seen during the initial outreach process. Keith Marvin AICP of Marvin Planning Consultants, Inc. will be present an update of the process. Part of the discussion will center on the dire need to improve participation on the community survey, MindMixer, and in public meetings.

In addition, there will be a discussion on the a future Town Hall meeting being planned on January 31, 2023 in the meeting room of the Bosselman Corporate offices at 1607 S. Locust Avenue. Details of this meeting to follow.

The attendance and support by the local media is seen as critical to the overall success of this part of the Comprehensive Plan and getting the word out to the community. The news media approximately 20 years ago was instrumental in the community engagement success of the current Comprehensive Plan.
