Regarding the Robidoux quick and dirty packet pick-up, 06-19-2021

Hi Kim,

Thanks for taking my call yesterday, I completed the festival application, minus the deposit and the co-signature from Oregon Trail Community Foundation. Briefly, we are expecting another good turnout for next year's race. We had 300 paid tickets for the 2020 race, and we feel that we are able to safely register 600 riders and still maintain appropriate social distancing. We are moving forward with next year's race with the expectation that the Covid virus will still be an active complication.

Our packet pickup will be from 4 to 9 PM Saturday, June 19. We would like to have it at the 18th Street Plaza. We intend to work with Flyover Brewing Company for on-site beer, and will work with them regarding the special designated dispensing license. We expect between 600 and 800 people through the five hour event. We plan to hire a band; we particularly like the added infrastructure that the city is putting towards the Plaza. It has been our experience over our previous five years of registering our riders that the flow of people is pretty steady over the five hour packet pickup. I suspect that at any one time we can expect 200 to 300 people in the Plaza itself. We feel confident that people will feel comfortable enough maintaining social distancing with those sorts of numbers. Those are our thoughts at this point anyway.

Please don't hesitate to contact me or my co-promoter, Aaron Raines if you have any questions or clarification needed. Thanks again for your help
